DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY, ARTS AND LIBRARIES

WILLIAM M. ANDERSON, DIRECTOR

702 West Kalamazoo P.O. Box 30738, Lansing, MI 48909 Phone: (517) 373-2486 www.michigan.gov/hal

The Department of History, Arts and Libraries was created under the History, Arts and Libraries Act, Act 63 of 2001, to consolidate and coordinate state efforts to protect, preserve, and promote Michigan's heritage; to provide access to quality information resources; and to foster cultural creativity. The department has taken the lead on the state's cultural economic development strategy and continues to partner with many state, public and private organizations, and companies to find new opportunities to leverage Michigan's arts and cultural resources in meaningful ways for Michigan communities and residents.

The Library of Michigan, formerly known as the State Library, was transferred in 2001 from the legislative branch of state government to the Department of History, Arts and Libraries in the executive branch by amending Act 540 of 1982. The Library of Michigan promotes, advocates, and consistently works to achieve the highest level of library service to the state of Michigan, its government, its libraries, and its residents. The library, including its law collection, is located in the Michigan Library and Historical Center at 702 West Kalamazoo Street (reference desk: 517-373-1300). The state librarian, who is appointed by the governor, in consultation with the Board of Trustees and with the advice and consent of the senate, is the chief administrator of the Library of Michigan. Nancy Robertson is the state librarian.

Established in 1985, the Library of Michigan Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, public charity governed by an independent Board of Directors. The foundation exists to provide opportunities for charitable giving to benefit Library of Michigan programs and projects otherwise not underwritten with state or federal funding.

The foundation's mission: The Library of Michigan Foundation raises funds to support special programs, services and collections of the Library of Michigan.

The Michigan Historical Center, which includes the Michigan Historical Museum and the Archives of Michigan, has administrative offices housed in the Michigan Library and Historical Center in downtown Lansing. The center administers the state's history program under Act 271 of 1913 and related laws. The center operates the Michigan Historical Museum in Lansing and administers 11 other field museums and historic sites around the state. The center also administers the Office of the State Archaeologist and the federally authorized State Historic Preservation Office. The center publishes Michigan History magazine and operates the State Records Center. The Department of History, Arts and Libraries administers the Michigan Historical Marker program, authorized by Act 10 of 1955, in cooperation with the Michigan Historical Commission. Sandra Clark serves as center director.
